Rabbi Michael Rascoe

Agatha Christie's detective, Hercule Poirot, (a sequel is due fall 2023) puts down everyone because nobody is in his intellectual league. At one point Poirot says to his companion and chronicler, Captain Hastings, "It is your destiny to stand beside me and prevent me from committing the unforgivable error."

"What do you call the unforgivable error?"

"Overlooking the obvious." (Agatha Christie, The A.B.C. Murders, 1936.)

Whether this is the truly unforgivable error may be up for debate, but it certainly is a common human one. Recall the popular online video where they ask you to count the basketball passes, and then ask you about the gorilla that parades across the screen, and even pauses to stop and thump its chest. Most people don't notice the gorilla; they're so intent on counting the passes.

There's also the blind spot in every human eye where the nerve is attached to the retina so that it can send messages to the brain. Of course, this part of the eye cannot see, so the brain fills in what it assumes would be there.

In Genesis 21 (which we read on Rosh Ha-shanah), we have a version of the unforgivable error. Hagar is sent away because Sarah cannot abide her, and the influence of Hagar's son on Sarah's son. Hagar wanders in the wilderness of Be'er Sheva. Convinced that they will die, she hides her son under a shrub and moves away a distance because she cannot bear to see him die. She weeps loudly. Then God opens her eyes, and she sees a well of water. She fills her skin with water. The well was there all along; she just didn't see it.

How often we miss the obvious. Helen Keller recounts, in The World I Live In, that she walks with people who see, but they don't notice the world around them. She writes, "They have the sunset, the morning skies, the purple of distant hills, yet their souls voyage through the enchanted world with nothing but a barren stare." Her reaction, "It were far better to sail forever in the night of blindness with sense and feeling and mind, than to be thus content with the mere act of seeing."

We overlook the obvious, and miss both the beauty in the world and the blessings around us. We also miss opportunities for fulfillment which we already possess. "If only I had this..." "if only circumstances were different..." "if only the mood were better..." etc. We don't see what we have. We should step back and ask, are we making the fundamental error?

The rabbis tried to inculcate in us the idea that we have everyday miracles which we should choose to see, and for which we should thank God. This idea is so fundamental, it's in the prayerbook, and we say it three times a day: "We thankfully acknowledge You...for Your miracles that accompany us each day, and for Your wonders and gifts that are with us each moment; evening, morning, and noon."

Hasidim tell a story about a poor Jew named Itsiq in Krakow. Many nights in a row he dreams that under a bridge in Prague leading to the king's palace is a buried treasure. He goes to Prague and finds the bridge, but he sees a guard. After a few days, the guard asks him what he's doing. He tells the guard about the dream. The guard laughs and tells him about his dream: in Krakow lives a Jew named Itsiq, and a treasure is buried under his stove. "If I believed in dreams, I'd go to Krakow, find Itsiq, and dig under his stove." The man goes home and finds a treasure under his stove. With it, he supposedly built the Synagoga Izaaka.

May we always see the obvious in front of our eyes, and acknowledge it.

Kol Nidre Appeal 5783

As we move into 5783, we continue to need our membership and friends to preserve the health and well-being of our beloved temple. It is a tradition in congregations to establish a Kol Nidre Appeal Fund; at Temple Israel this fund is vital to help supplement the dues and thus cover our operating expenses. Therefore, we ask each one of you, if you have not already donated, to be as generous as possible, in order that our temple may continue to meet the growing needs of the Jewish community.

Please forward your check, payable to Temple Israel Kol Nidre Fund, to: Temple Israel of Riverhead, P.O. Box 1531, Riverhead, NY 11901. You can also pay from our website, using PayPal. Thank you.

Dates subject to change.

Our Judaica Shop

If you need Shabbat or holiday items for yourself, or for a gift, you will find them right in the Temple. Our Judaica Shop boasts a large inventory of beautiful items, many of them displayed in the Social Hall's glass cases. Kiddush cups, glass platters, Shabbat-to-go, kipot, Seder and matzoh plates, menorahs, children's books and toys, cookbooks, and candlesticks are all there.

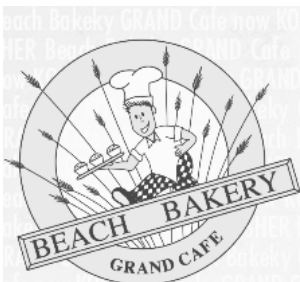

Phyllis Van Dyne operates the Temple's Shop, acquiring new items several times a year. She will also fill special orders; if you see something you'd like, she can get it for you. Or, if you need ideas for a gift, she will be happy to suggest something in your price range, perfect for your occasion and recipient. For more information and personal service, just call Phyllis at 631-734-7511.

Interfaith Bible Class

The Interfaith Bible Class will meet via Zoom, on Wednesdays, November 9 and December 14, from 9:30-11:30 AM. Please contact the Rabbi for information and the link.

Jewish Mysticism

Join Rabbi Rascoe to explore the topic of Jewish mysticism, especially the Kabbalah and its variations. Classes are held via Zoom, from 6:00-7:00 PM, on Mondays in November and December.

Book Discussion: Between God and Man

Rabbi Rascoe will continue discussing Between God and Man: An Interpretation of Judaism by Abraham Heschel, with a new introduction by David Hartman (1997). The group meets, via Zoom, at 6 PM on Tuesdays in November and December.

Talmud Classes: Tractate Megillah

Rabbi Roscoe's Talmud classes continue, via Zoom, at 6 PM on Wednesdays in November and December. There is always review. No advance reading is required. The text can be found at: <https://www.sefaria.org/Megillah.8a?lang=bi>. Attendees receive an introduction to Talmudic logic, thought, and law.

Bible Study: Starting with Genesis

Rabbi Rascoe will be holding these classes, via Zoom, at 6:30 PM on Thursdays in November and December, except November 24.

Please note: Congregants will receive emailed instructions for attending Rabbi Roscoe's classes via Zoom. Classes may be cancelled when the class decides to take a break, and you may come late or leave early.

Philanthropy • Public Service • Volunteering

We know what it takes to make a strong Jewish community.
Doing our job well is just the beginning.

We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve the community in times of growth and happiness as well as times of grief. It's not surprising we've served the Jewish community for over 100 years. How we've served is the surprising part. David Rubin and his entire staff work tirelessly in serving the Jewish community, but then, that's part of our philosophy and tradition. We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve and give back to the community.
